15-17 May 2024, Budapest, Hungary

Hosted by Moholy-Nagy University of Art and Design

<https://cumulusbudapest2024.mome.hu/>

Dear Colleagues,

We are looking for volunteer peer reviewers to undertake a double-blind review of the submissions for the Cumulus Budapest 2024 conference. Peer reviewers help maintain the outstanding reputation of the conference by identifying exceptional and timely submissions.

We received about 550 abstract submissions for academic papers, significantly more than we expected. We are excited that our call for proposals gained so much interest from the academic community. At the same time, this increased number of submissions means we need more reviewers so we can maintain the quality of reviews and have a healthier and manageable number of allocated papers per reviewer. Hence, we extend our call for reviewers.

The theme of the conference is P/References of Design. The following nine tracks are planned and we seek reviewers who are knowledgeable in one or more of these areas:

1. Centres and Peripheries
2. Converging Bodies of Knowledge
3. Redefining Data Boundaries
4. Bridging Design and Economics
5. Speculative Perspectives
6. The Power of Immersion
7. The Future of Well-being
8. Taming Entropy: Systems Design for Climate and Change
9. Ways of Living Together
10. Cumulus PhD Network – call for short papers

For each of the above tracks, keywords and potential themes are listed here.

For more information on the conference, the call for participation, accepted formats and key dates, please check the conference website.
